— Your role • Check-in / starting venue

FRI, OCT 30 NIGHT CRAWL • SAT, OCT 31 DAY CRAWL • SAT, OCT 31 NIGHT CRAWL

As a check-in venue, you welcome guests at the start of the crawl during your assigned check-in window. This is where guests begin the night, receive or confirm their wristbands, and get oriented before moving through the event.

Guests should show an
Eventbrite ticket

Guests are advised to bring valid
ID

Guests pay for their own consumption (drinks or food)

- This is the starting / check-in venue for the crawl.
- Guests may arrive in staggered waves during your assigned hours.
- Follow the check-in instruction sheet (next page) for verification and wristband handling.
- Honor crawl specials / perks for verified guests (including waived cover, if applicable).
- Normal venue ID, capacity, and house rules still apply.
- Guests move at their own pace.

- For guest questions about maps, tickets, or support, point them to the participant poster / QR code or the organizer on Eventbrite.

— Your role • Middle venue

THU, OCT 29 NIGHT CRAWL • FRI, OCT 30 NIGHT CRAWL • SAT, OCT 31 NIGHT CRAWL

As a middle venue, you serve as a scheduled stop along the crawl route during your assigned event hours. Guests arrive in staggered waves, enjoy your venue as part of the experience, and then continue to the next stop at their own pace.

Verified guests should show their wristband

Guests are advised to bring valid ID

Guests pay for their own consumption (drinks or food)

- The wristband is the main form of guest verification.
- Guests without a wristband should be directed to the check-in venue. If they can't secure one, their Eventbrite ticket is valid as part of the crawl.
- Tickets don't need to be scanned unless arranged at your venue — a visual check is advised.
- Honor the agreed crawl specials/perks for verified guests during your event hours (including waived cover, if applicable).
- All guests remain subject to normal ID checks, capacity limits, and house rules.
- Guests arrive in staggered waves.
- For guest questions about maps, tickets, or support, point them to the participant poster / QR code or the organizer on Eventbrite.

If a guest asks you something

Point them at this code. It opens the live crawl map for tonight — the route, addresses, start times and the drink specials at every stop. It is the same code that is on the participant poster.

See the next page for the two posters to print and put up at your venue.

GENERAL INSTRUCTION SHEET

WASHINGTON • THU, OCT 29 • FRI, OCT 30 • SAT, OCT 31

— What to expect

- Guests should be wearing their crawl wristbands.
- If a guest can't get a wristband, their Eventbrite ticket is a valid way to identify them.
- Guests should have valid government ID on them.
- Guests are subject to normal venue policies, capacity, dress codes, etc.
- Guests pay for their own drinks / food.
- For any guest questions, direct them to contact us via Eventbrite.

— As discussed

- If applicable, waive the cover for valid guests.
- Honor drink specials. (No free drinks unless offered.)

— To display at the venue

These are your two posters, exactly as they print. Both are attached to the email this came with, and both are on your venue page.

Venue poster — shows your venue is part of the event. Put it on your door or window.

Participant poster — has the crawl map, info & support. Put it on a wall inside where guests gather.

CHECK-IN INSTRUCTION SHEET

WASHINGTON • THU, OCT 29 • FRI, OCT 30 • SAT, OCT 31

What to do – wristband handling:

— Situation A – a staff member is available

Guests arrive and show their tickets to the assigned staff in exchange for a wristband (if you agreed to hand them out).

— Situation B – no staff / wristband pick-up station

Place the wristbands in a box or container at the bar or near the entrance. Direct guests to pick one up and enjoy the night – this runs on an honesty basis. Just let your staff know where the wristbands are and keep an eye on it.

— Situation C – a host may be provided

On high-demand nights we may hire an external host so you can focus on serving guests (not guaranteed). If a host arrives, hand the wristbands to them. If no host arrives, use Situation B – unless you agreed to Situation A.
